

In response to a query from a resident, the council have said that "It is actually illegal to park adjacent to a dropped kerb leading to a driveway without the permission of the owner of the property that it leads to and in certain circumstances vehicles parked there may be issued with a penalty charge notice.

Reigate and Banstead borough council manage this enforcement, on behalf of Surrey County Council, so if the problem continues please contact Reigate and Banstead borough council's parking team to see if they can help deter drivers causing this inconvenience."
